DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3-25, 32 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Helland USPN 6,658,289 alone, or alternatively in view of Walcott et al USPN 6,760,621.

Helland et al shows a pacer/defibrillator that can provide individual stimulation between a lead and the can such as in figures 11 and 12 as or between leads only such as in figure 8. The examiner considers the electrodes 25 and the can 40 to be subcutaneous nonthoracic electrodes since such a label is only a statement of intended use and the system is fully capable of being used as such. The device would be able to operate with only one lead in embodiments where the second lead is not used. Although it does not state that sensing is done just using the "subcutaneous electrodes" alone, it is believed to be inherent or obvious to sense a single chamber so as to identify and localize the device. Disconnecting a lead and placing a plug in the lead interface would allow the device to operate as stated. The device can also operate using all leads for sensing and pacing which meets the limitations of claim 32. Walcott column 8 lines 7-9 is cited for showing individual channels used for sensing, pacing and shocking was well known.

Claims 26-31, 33-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Helland USPN 6,658,289 alone, or alternatively in view of Walcott et al USPN 6,760,621. Applicant merely claims old and well known structure such as additional can electrodes and communication systems for configuring the device.
